

WRITE YOUR RESPONSE

Use the sculptures at the park as inspiration for your own creative writing! Use the prompts on this page to get started.

3. Molly Valentine Dierks' I Worried features text from Mary Oliver's poem of the same name. Write a short poem in response to Oliver's words, and your experience walking through the piece.

3. Choose a sculpture in the park and personify it. What does it sound like? How does it move? What does it want and fear? What special powers does it have?

3. Trevor Nicholas' Skinscape is an earthwork sculpture that enlarges the back of the artist's hand, specifically his ulna, a bone that protrudes from the pinky side of the wrist. Imagine a world in which scale plays such a pivotal role. Describe a day in that world.

3. Write a short story for young kids using one of the sculptures in the park as inspiration.
